Analysis, Assessment and Action taken

Feedback is a critical component in improving performance of institution. It provides platform to the student and faculty to share their views and address the strength as well as the necessary improvement required for the growth of the institute.

Based on the collected feedback (from stakeholders) the majority of the students found the syllabus, laboratories facilities, library facilities, drinking water and overall atmosphere of the college in very good condition.

However, few recommendations were also suggested such as regular update of the website content, which was forwarded to IT committee and necessary steps were taken. Few students have also suggested the water problem in washroom, which was by enlarge solved by the maintenance work. Several books were also added in the library as suggested in the feedback.

Analysis, Assessment and Action taken

In order to improve an institution's performance, feedback is essential. It gives staff and students a forum to express their opinions and discuss the institute's strengths and areas that still need work in order to thrive.

According to input collected from many stakeholders, most students thought the college's syllabus, lab and library facilities, drinking water, and general ambiance were in very good shape.

A few recommendations were made as well, though, such as updating library, hence number of books were also added to the library. Few suggested updating the website on regular basis. The IT committee received this information and the appropriate action was done additionally Facebook page and Instagram page was also under construction. A small number of students have also brought up the issue with the water in the restroom, which was mostly resolved by maintenance team.

Analysis, Assessment and Action taken

Feedback plays a crucial role in helping an institution function better. Employees and students can share their thoughts and address about both the institute's advantages and areas that still require improvement for it to succeed.

According to input collected from many stakeholders, most students thought the college's syllabus was good. Moreover, due to existing Covid Pandemic the main concern highlighted by stakeholder was online teaching.

The above issue was taken under top priority and the MsTeams id were created for all the students and faculties. Additionally, timetable for online lecture was formulated by timetable committee and was forwarded to all the students. Assignments, seminar and exams were also taken through online mode. Moreover, WhatsApp group were created and number were circulated to all the stakeholders to further resolve any issues created during online teaching.

Analysis, Assessment and Action taken

Feedback is critical to improving the operation of an institution. It set a roadmap for college and stakeholders by directing their attention to areas for growth and improvement and connecting them to future learning opportunities.

As per the information collected from several stakeholders, most students considered the college's syllabus, labs and classroom teaching were good. However, few suggestions were also raised by students such as using more ICT tools during lectures. To address the above suggestion, the raised question was passed to the respective committee and was taken under consideration. Moreover, additional committees were also formulated to address issues regarding the problem faced by students. Overall the atmosphere of the college was in very good shape as suggested by stakeholder in feedback.
