This structure is being followed so as to provide flexibility to the employees in structuring their compensation package. The components within each category of payments are discretionary and these components may be changed by the Company from time to time without notice.

The main components under the Total Pay structure are as follows:

I. Components of Compensation

b. Provident Fund (PF):

The contributions payable by the Employer under the scheme shall be at the rate specified under the Employees' Provident Funds and Miscellaneous Provisions Act, 1952 (PF Act). The current rate of contribution is 12% of PF Salary. Employee also contributes an equal amount from employee's monthly salary, as per PF Act. Out of the Employer's contribution, a portion (presently 8.33% of PF Salary subject to a maximum of INR 1250) is deposited into the Employees' Pension Scheme. The part of the company's contribution deposited under Employees' Pension Scheme to RPF is to provide employees with pension on retirement or after completion of a specified period of service. TDS recovery from PF settlement will be as per the relevant provision of the Income Tax Act, 1961.
